Howard with Andrew at Ainger Holbrow

Dear Readers: as you cast your eyes over my jottings the hour will have sprung forward. I hope that we will all feel brighter with lighter evenings and better weather. This month I am pictured brandishing a wrench with Andrew Breitsprecher at the garage Ainger Holbrow at 115 High Street (Tel. 01473 823286) where Andrew is the principal. My love of motor cars is well known and I have been hither and thither for servicing. Andrew now looks after my cars; he does so very well and takes great care in whatever he is doing. It is such a convenient service – why not pay Andrew a visit.

Did you guess where I was in the March picture? In fact, I was about to play the piano on Board Cunard's Queen Mary 2 amidst the North Atlantic one November day. QM2 is now ten years old and I was so excited to be able to spend time on board. Passenger ships have always held a fascination for me. When I was small, I well remember Grandpa pointing out to me in the Sunday Express the sailing times of passenger ships that appeared there. A by-gone era. I recently saw a television programme that was based on the last voyage of Queen Elizabeth 2 under the Cunard flag. The QE2 was the last ship of consequence to have been built in Britain. You will remember from my Column that I went to Southampton to see QE2 when she sailed for the last time on 11 November 2008. I was fortunate enough to have travelled on QE2 many times and the programme brought back happy memories.

I have had various enquiries about the well being of Frank and Maria who seemed to be in the wrong place at the wrong time when they were shot in the High Street just after Christmas. One lady who telephoned wondered if those that had been injured were her "Clean Easy" Representatives as she had not seen them for some time! I can say with confidence that they were not.

So often titles to land that are offered are not as one might have hoped. The Seller doesn't have rights of access; some of the land that the Seller is selling is owned by someone else. It needs a weather eye to spot all the different problems, problems that you do not wish to acquire. I have been handling all sorts of conveyancing transactions as a Solicitor for some 29 years – I do not believe that there is any one else in Hadleigh who can say that! Do take advantage of the service that my firm can provide. Don't forget that we can attend to your Wills and Lasting Powers of Attorney.
